Resigned Chancellor Mentioned as Probable Choice; Talmadge's Wishes Not Ascertained.

WASHINGTON, April 17 .- (A)-Philip Weltner, resigned chancellor of the Georgia University System, was mentioned in unusually well-informed sources today as a probable choice to head the new work relief program in Georgia.

Meager information available, how ever, did not make clear whether the adminis ration had consulted Governor Talmadge about Weltner.

Senator Russell, of Georgia, said he had heard Weltner's name mentioned, but had received no definite information on President Roosevelt's work administration plans in his state. Some observers predicted the $4.880,000,000 program will be under closer federal supervision than previous relief expenditures penditures.

With regard to the situation in Georgia, where Talmadge has been hostile to many "New Deal" policies, it was agreed in most quarters "any guess is a bad guess," on who shall head the work program.

Russell reiterated a belief Georgia will be handled no differently from other states.

Indicatent by Letvinoff.

An outstanding topic of conversation in this League seat tonight was the indirect indicatent of Germany made by Maxim Litvinoff, soviet foreign commissar, in his address opening today's council session.

The concern over the political situation in Europe was freely expressed. After the Russian's arraignment of "a state" whose armaments lead to "apprehensions" that they are intended for "violation of world peace."

Litvinoff's scorching words gained added emphasis because of the calm, matter-of-fact voice in which they were pronounced. Leaning forward across the council table, he read his speech in English and the council room listened in dead silence.

What is to be done." Litvinoff asked. "if a state demanding or seizing the right to armaments is ruled whole world a foreign policy program consisting of a policy of revenge, the unlimited conquest of foreign territory and the destruction of the independence of entire states. . . ?"

high credit standing."
Gormley said the small wage earner who needs loans of $50 or less to meet such emergencies as sickness or death cannot be financed at the present low rate of interest because of the high cost of making and collecting loans and the relatively high rate of losses on small loans.

He said the result left the small borrower "at the mercies of the unregulated loan shark," who he said evades the legal interest rates by desig-nating himself as a broker. "These unregulated lenders," Gorm-ley explained, "evade the legal interest rate by designating their charges as brokerage fees, or by outright pur-chase of salaries at a discount. The charges of such lenders are known to range from 5 to as high as 20 per cent per week, or from 250 to 1,000 per cent a year.

"With the legitimate competition from licensed small loan companies removed as a result of the lower interest rate, this class of lender will have the field entirely to himself as far as the small wage earner is con-cerned and we may expect in Georgia a return to the conditions of ex-ploitation which existed before the passage of the uniform small loan law."

A Doctor, Ouick

THERE are thousands of doctors in this nation, but what wouldn't you give for just one of them when sudden sickness threatens a member of your family?

In such a crisis, folks instinctively turn to their telephone, to save precious time. If one doctor is not in, it takes but a few seconds to call another. But if you had to search in person, or find an obliging neighbor whose telephone you could use, it might take too long.

About seventeen millions of Americans today have a telephone handy. They evidently get a service which is more valuable to them than the small cost, or they probably would not have it.

You, too, will find it costs more to do without a telephone than it does to have it; costs you in time, inconvenience and many other ways. For information about the classes of service, just ask any of your telephone company friends, or get in touch with the Business Office

Rents and Home Values Here PETITION TO DISBAR Drop One-Fifth in Four Years

During Same Period Peronal Incomes Decline One-Third, Commerce Department Announces.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS. WASHINGTON, April 16.—Rents and values of homes in Atlanta declined about one-fifth from 1929 to 1933, while during the same period personal incomes declined almost a third, the Bureau of Foreign and Donestic Commerce, Department of Commerce, announced here today.

C. T. Murchison, director of the bureau, said that the Atlanta data was obtained by the financial survey of urban housing, a CWA project, made early in 1934. Reports were made on 5,609 Atlanta residential dwelling units, of 15.6 per cent of the total number of occupied dwelling

Approximately 81 per cent of the owners reporting were white and 17 per cent negroes. Of tenants reporting, 56 per cent were white and 42 per cent negroes. Of tenants reporting, 56 per cent were white and 42 per cent negroes.

About half of all properties reporting on mortgage indebtedness, including land contracts, were encumbered. Nearly three-fifths of all owner-occupied and two-fifths of rented properties. Average s222 Yearly.

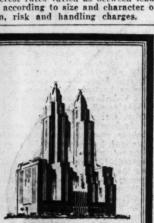

The average 1933 rent bill as indicated by the survey was $222 per dwelling unit. This amount was the entire yearly charge for the use of the property and all facilities provided by the landlord without separate charge. One-family dwellings constituted about two-fifths of the total number of dwelling units reported. Apartments made up about one-fifth and units in two-family structures nearly one-third of the total. The average rent per dwelling unit for two-family structures was $156, and for apartment $326 a year. The monthly rental charge for one-family dwellings was $10.40 per unit, $4.10 per room and $4.10 per person.

Nearly two-thirds of all tenants reporting had rent bills for 1933 amounting to less than $240, and were above $1,500. The average was $979.

Incomes of families owning the dwellings they occupied averaged $1,906 in 1933, or nearly twice the average tenant income. More than two and one-half years' income at the 1933 rate would have been required to purchase the average home at its value on January 1, 1934, as estimated by the owner. More than half of the mortgaged owner-occupied properties valued under $1,500 were delinquent in payments, as compared with about a third of those valued over $5,000.

Life insurance companies were the principal source of first mortgage credit on owner-occupied properties in Atlanta, supplying 44 per cent of the total amount outstanding January 1, 1934. Mortgage companies held 26 per cent and individual lenders 14 per cent of the total amount outstanding January 1, 1934. Mortgage companies held 26 per cent and individual lenders 14 per cent of the total. The original amount of loan as reported averaged $3.165 as against $2,666 outstanding. The average contract interest rates varied as between lenders according to size and character of loan, risk and handling charges.

COLLECTIONS IN STATE Georgia textile mills have paid cotton processing taxes totaling $28,435.692 since August 20, 1933, through March of 1935, according to record in the office of W E. Page, collector of internal revenue for Georgia Spinners of cotton fabricated into textile products pay a processing tax of 4.5 cents per pound on cotton used. The tax is incurred when the bale is broken, but is not paid to the government until 60 days later. At the office of Collector Page it was stated Georgia spinners have uniformly co-operated with the government in paying the processing tax, so that 99.73 per cent of the total tax assessed has actually been collected.

Constant starting, stopping, accelerating waste your money—if your gasoline doesn't have these Three Different Kinds of Power

10,000 MILES A YEAR! Enough to cross America 3 times! Don't you often wonder how you run up all this MILEAGE?

It's the little trips . . . the 2 miles to school and back . . . the mile-and-a-half to market, the bank . . . the continual stop-and-go that EATS UP GASOLINE!

These short trips call for 3 distinct kinds of power in your gasoline . . . POWER for quick starting . . . POWER for accelerating ... POWER for the steady run!

Unless these three types of power are present-AND IN PERFECT BALANCEthese short trips waste your money.

Super-Shell, the first truly BALANCED gasoline, cuts your driving costs 3 WAYS: Can save up to a cupful of gasoline on "Cold" Starting. In summer or winter, Super-Shell starts instantly, often warms up in half the time of ordinary gasolines-with less choking. So you use less gasoline. Can save up to a cupful of gasoline in 10 Minutes of Hard Pulling-With Super-Shell's even volatility, you can race up steep hills on less gasoline. And you avoid knocking which alone in a few minutes can waste up to 10% of your power.

Can save up to a cupful of gasoline in One Hour of Steady Running—many motorists report. Every drop of Super-Shell vaporizes more completely. At all speeds it delivers maximum power. On your long drives as well as on short trips, it saves you money.

THESE THREE SAVINGS of gasoline naturally result in more mileage per tankful. Super-Shell is on sale from Coast to Coast, at no extra cost, at more than 30,000 neighborly Shell stations.

Falling Limb Injures
Pupil in Lamar County
BANNESVILLE, Ga., April 17.
Sara Driskell, 11-year-old daughter of E. B. Driskell, Lamar county farmer, was seriously injured in an unusual accident near Ramah school Tuesday.

The child, accompanied by her teacher, was returning home from school when a limb blew from a tree and struck her on the head.
The teacher brought her into Barnesville for medical aid, and it was discovered that her skull was badly fractured. She was rushed to a Macon hospital, where she underwent an operation.

Plea for No Punishment by Government Is NEWNAN, Ga., April 17.—Declaring that the most menacing thing about the present prohibition law is that it "attracted the youth of our country toward liquor," Mayor James L., Key, of Atlanta, brought his fight for the repeal of the state bone dry laws to Newnan today in an address before the local Kiwanis Club.

The mayor quoted figures from the recorder's court in Atlanta which showed that in more than 18,000 cases, liquor was assigned definitely as the cause of arrest. More than 48,000 cases kilquor was assigned definitely as the cause of arrest. More than 48,000 cases were given as the total. "Enactment of the prohibition law was a great social, moral and economic chime. "Now, having lived with it, having seen what it would do and what it would not do, to vote for its retention would be a great social, moral and economic crime.

"Another phase more vicious and more difficult to deal with its that the prohibition regime has developed a criminal ring. It fosters vice and crime and declares war on organized society." The mayor, who spoke at the regular weekly meeting of the club, declared that he formerly favored prohibition, thinking a new generation would be reared that would know nothing of liquor, but instead, he said, "it was found that a great many persons, especially young people, in a spirit of revolt, and much in the spirit of adventure, became drinkers of liquor."

BETTER, SAYS BABSOI Statistician

Bankers' Meet Sees Improvement.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 17 .- (UI Business conditions are distinctly be ter, Statistician Roger W. Babson d clared tonight.

"Whatever the reasons, it surely true that business conditions are be ter this spring than any spring du-ing the past five years," said Babsoi speaking helore the "family dinner of the executive council of the Ame-ican Bankers' Association.

"Notwithstanding the pessimist talk that there is today, condition are distinctly better. How much of this is due to natural recovery an how much is due to government expenditures is, of course, debatable." "I have a hunch that the new bus ness caused by government expend tures about offsets the business los due to the undermining of confidence brought about by these expenditures. Babson gave 10 explanations improved business:

1. Bad situations are continuall being cleaned up with a reduction i private, corporate and municipal deb 2. Inventories, both of raw mat-rials and manufactured goods, as gradually but constantly declining. 3. Retail sales are increasing bot in dollars and volume, which meanthat employment must increase in the factories to replace the goods bein sold.

4. Dividend disbursements including back taxes on preferred issues ar constantly increasing.

5. Collections are better and at continually improving. In most case these are running about 6 per cer above a year ago.

6. Failures are at a very low figurand foreclosures are constantly declining.

"A remarkable change in attitude among bankers in the country section was noted in the Young report which also said that rural bankers are e joying an improved condition in the business.

Jenkins said he and a companion whose name was not learned, were stopped by four men in a roadste one of whom covered them with sawed off shotgun. Increase Expected To Net Carriers $85,000,000 During Year.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(P)— The nation tomorrow will begin pay-ing an added bill of around $85.000,-000 a year in increased railroad freight rates in an effort to tide the harrassed carriers over the next 14 months.

harrassed carriers over the pert 14 months.

Temporary increases in the form of surcharges will go into effect on almost all commodities. The only exceptions are major farm crops including wheat, corn, barley, rice and livestock and building materials.

The lowest additional charges are 10 cents a ton on iron ore and 3 to 15 cents a ton on coal. The highest is 4 cents per 100 pounds—80 cents a short ton—on binder twine and rosin sizing.

The freight boosts were granted three weeks ago by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The railroads had asked a permanent increase of close to 10 per cent but the commission allowed raises of about 7 per cent, effective only until June 30, 1936.

The boosts were granted over pro-tests of shippers from all sections of the country and as the hour for en-forcing them approached there was doubt about their application on coal doubt about their application on coal and agricultural livestock.

However, the Interstate Commerce Commission suspension board late today declined to suspend the rates despite protests filed after the decision.

A lart-minute court attempt by Appalachian coal mining companies to prevent the rates from going into effect was denied today by a three-judge federal district court sitting at Richmond, Va. Counsel for the mining companies had sought a temporary injunction restraining the carrary injunction restraining the car-riers from applying the increased

The court denied the petition but granted the plaintiffs 10 days in which to file a further brief, with the defendants having ten additional days for their answer.

The coal rates were attacedk by 180 coal companies operating in Virginia West Virginia, Tennessee and Ken-

West Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky.

The new rates are avowedly an emergency action. "We are of the opinion therefore," said the commission in its decision, "that the emergency confronting the railroads is of such gravity that they should be permitted to add a system of emergency charges to most of the existing freight rates and charges for application during the recharges for application during the re-mainder of 1935 and half of 1936." The increases affect thousands of items, almost all of which reach into every part of the country and every home and result in an increase in rates on shipments from the United States to Canada and Mexico.

Luther Thomas, negro, is facing death May 17, but the negro, convicted yesterday in Fulton superior court of the murder of a negro woman in 1024, does not know as yet whether he will be hanged or electrocuted.

Judge C. J. Perryman sentenced the negro to death after a jury had failed to recommend mercy, but said that he will consider overnight the point raised by the negro's attorney that he will consider overnight the point raised by the negro's attorney that the crime was committed August 16, 1924, before the hour on which the governor signed the bill on that day providing for substitution of electrocution as the legal means of execution in the state.

Thomas was convicted of the knife slaying of Isabella Turner, a negro woman. He was a fugitive until last January, when officers found him at the house in which the woman had been slain.

TRAFFIC COURT SHIFT APPROVED BY MAYOR

Mayor Key yesterday approved a council ordinance shifting the traffic court from the city hall to the newly completed police station, and acted on several other measures passed to him from Monday's sessions of council and the aldermanic board.

Under the ordinance, traffic court will be held from 10:30 a. m. until 12:30 p. m. each week day at the recorder's court at the police station. Heretofore, it has been held in committee room No. 2 at the city hall.

The old traffic court was for guilty pleas only and no trials could be held. The new arrangement will allow a defendant to decide whether he will plead guilty or demand a trial on the evidence. Although traffic cases will be given preference at the new division, other cases may be tried there, thus relieving congestion in other divisions of the recorder's court and expediting trials.

COLUMBUS, O., POLICE HOLD ALLEGED FORGER

Roy Booth, alias Howard W. Jackson, of Loganville, Ga., was arrested yesterday in Columbus, Ohio, at the request of Georgia officers on a warrant charging forgery.

Booth, according to police, was convicted on a charge of violating the state prohibition law in Newton county and was sentenced to 12 months and was out on an appeal bond. The warrant, police stated, charged that he forged four checks for the total amount of $116.

Officers and a professional bondsman left Atlanta last night to remain Booth to Covington.

He said he regretted that some parts of the resolution "which refer particularly to Germany" might produce the very effects all desire to avoid. He also lamented that "the council is called upon to play the part of tribunal." The three big powers supporting the resolution, however, stoutly resisted any move to change it, or to bring up issues not directly concerned with it. Maxim Litvinoff, soviet foreign commissar, asked whether specific references to Europe in the resolution would not imply that other continents were left free to violate treaties. 4 Per Cent Interest

Under Harrison's proposal, if veterans did not desire to turn their certificates over to the government and receive bonds, they would hold them, and at maturity date could obtain interest at 4 per cent compounded annually from Armistice Day, 1918, or they could continue to operate under the old law if that proved best to them financially.

The Harrison bill would move the

The 1935 Model

When you have invested in this newest model Moncrief you have purchased at a moderate price the finest furnace that money can buy. It is absolutely smoke and gas tight and burns coal, oil or gas.

For more than 38 years Moncrief has been the accepted standard of the South. These years have been filled with constant improvements that have led to a finer and more efficient furnace each year. It holds the unqualifield approval of architects, builders and realtors. Each installation is designed and made by thoroughly competent engineers. In thousands of homes its never failing service is as dependable as the passing of the days.

The new Moncrief can be installed on very liberal time payments—nothing down—up to 36 months to pay.

Monorief also installs Air Con-ditioning, Weather strapping, Rock Wool Attic Insulation, Vantilating and Humidification Systems and Rei yeration for home cooling on as same lib-eral time payment plan.

Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler is preparing to strike back at the European nations who joined in public denunciation of the reich's rearmament.

The United Press learned touight that der fuehrer is unwilling to take this snub "lying down" and that Germany probably will make a stiff reply to the League of Nations council resolutions within the next few days.

The form o' this reply remains conjectural. It may be a speech or a proclamation by Hitler. He is due back from a brief vacation tomorrow or Friday, to celebrate his forty-sixth birthday in Berlin on Saturday.

Hope Killed.

The council's action killed any hope that Germany might return to the League soon. The first reaction in Berlin was one of ostentatious indifference. A government spokesman summed this up: "We were not represented at Geneva, and it's of little concern to us what the League says about us."

The action goes deeper than that, however, and resentment is mounting steadily. The unanimity of the council's vote is having a deep moral effect upon the German people and may af-

LIQUOR STORE PETITION

A total of 1,118 persons had signed the petition seeking a city-wide vote on an ordinance to empower Mayor Key to operate a series of municipally-owned liquor dispensaries when the office of City Clerk J. Henson Tatum closed for the day.

The number. however, is still 732 short of the 1,850 signatures needed to force an election.

Key returned to his office during the afternoon from a speech at Newnan in which he championed success for the referendum May 15 for repeal of the state dry laws to announce that prosperity "will never return to Georgia until we make an asset of the liquor business and collect taxes from it in some guise rather than allow it to be a drain upon our resources."

News Behind the News By Paul Mallon

DIFFICULTIES WASHINGTON, April 17 .- The inner problems of New Dealing are not among those you read about in current discussions.

A section chief of considerable standing in the New Deal was asked by his superiors to file a memo on the difficulties of his division. One section of his memo read as follows:

"Politics—It has been my contention that all projects should be based on merit and merit alone, that is, economic and social soundness illumined by social vision. The constant pressure from men in office on the Hill (house and senate) makes this difficult, if not impossible. Personal visits and the telephone are used conan attempt to influence decisions.

"For illustration, last summer, the — project, which was started by a local corporation, was placed in my hands for analysis and recommendation. In my memorandum covering it, I suggested abandonment of the project on the grounds of economic and social unsoundness and because the project as conceived fell outside the scope of our program.

side the scope of our program.
"The congressman from the district in which the project lies sat at my desk for a part of two days, using the president's and secretary's names in the argument to coerce me into a change of opinion and recommendation. "I do not believe that administrative employes should be subjected to such pressure from any outside sources. Were I dependent upon governmental employment, with a family on my hands, I might have been terrorized by fear of loss of my Job into being recreant to my best judgment."

SABOTAGE? The main complaint by the section chief was against the personnel with which he was furnished. He wrote that he kept asking for competent experts and specialists. He recommended and discussed several possible appointees, but later was required to choose from a list of names of persons "who had had no training or experience." This practice, he contended, was "sabotaging further development" of his work. A similarly strong complaint was made against salaries paid. He said he was paying certain experts from $3,200 to $4,500 a year, and the best men were getting the lowest figure.

"The salary scales," he added, "are not at all commensurate with the individual abilities of the persons employed nor do they bear any relation, so far as I can see, to their functions."

WITHDRAWAL It was none of these problems that led to the retirement of Houser Moffett.

Mr. Moffett's graceful exit was due to a combination of personal circumstances and futility. In his extraordinary enthusiasm, he stepped on several important toes. His friends felt that his endeavors were constantly hedged in by other overlapping bureaus. His latest difficulties were with influential Governor Eccles, of fed-

Add to this the fact that he had the most impossible job of any of the New Dealers, and you will discern that the only wonder about it was that his enthusiasm did not run down long before.

WARNING In an executive council meeting at the White House months ago, President Roosevelt sounded forth one day, in effect, as follows:

'Now, I don't care how much you fellows fight among yourselves; I want you to state your differences of opinion. Come in here and fight it out before me if you want to. But I want it kept in mind that these family rows must be kept inside the family. I don't want any of you running to outsiders. Argue among your-

There is no question that Long himself has permitted one or two senators to hear him express such a view, but there is a grave question whether any senator or anyone else believes him. The fundamental fact about Huey is that he has on file in his office a list of names segregated by states. They are the names of people who have written him letters. His friends say he has 8,000,000 names thus classified. The truth is probably nearer 2,000,000, if that many. Whatever the number, they are sufficient to be the guiding factor in the Long movement.

BARGAINING Huey's professed strategical idea is to use these names to get petitions signed in a hurry at any

Those who know Huey best believe he will have another, greater, use for them. As they stand there now, they represent the essence of his political influence, a bargaining power to get some of the political and economic things he wants now. The way he is handling them looks very much as if he were in the market for good bargains, rather than in the primaries for a race. At least none of the expert politicos here is counting Huey in or out until the dates expire for filing primary petitions.

LONELY The values of names in political campaigns is well illustrated by the experience of a foremost newsman in the last congressional campaign. He dropped in to see a good friend who was secretary of a republican state committee in a midwest city. His first question, of course, was as to how the cam-

If you are one of the "intelligent minority," you are building better In each unit of 100 adults, there are 10 of subnormal intelligence and another 40, at a guess, who have no understanding of national prob-lems—who cannot understand, for instance, why evil would result if the government should print billions of new money and give it to the

Another 40 give no thought to national business. They are prosperous and contented or reconciled to passive waiting or engrossed in their personal affairs and indifferent to all else. That leaves 10-a generous estimate-who understand the nation's needs and dangers and give anxious thought to its welfare. Their anxiety is justified by the good it does, but history proves it groundless. The life and customs and ideals of a whole people are not changed in a day by royal edict or the whim of legislators.

A law prohibiting the sale of alcoholic beverages may be signed in 30 seconds, but people will continue drinking until the slow process of building a new ideal and a new custom has made it wrong or foolish.

The race moves forward by means of age-long trends. There are many false starts and much retracing of steps, decade seems to show no progress, but the forward trend continues. It is like a man following a path through a swamp at night. Often he makes a false step and begins to sink, but at once he realizes his error and returns to solid ground.

The experiments and policies of government often seem to threaten disaster, but they quickly expose their own folly and the watchful minority as quickly clamors for a return to sanity.

There is no reason to fear a new step. If it is made on solid ground, is a step forward. If it is in the wrong direction, common sense will not permit it to stand unchallenged.

Those made auxious by their understanding need not despair. The more anxious they are, the sooner they cry a warning; and the sooner they cry a warning, the less a false step costs.

Interesting NEW YORK, N. Y.,
April 17.—From a salesman calling on the trade in Cleveland, E. G. "I have often wondered." Mr. Guening writes, "why none of you columnists whose opportunity for observation and contemplation is so broad never hew more closely to the line of business fundamentals and always seem to feel that a so-called business, man should he ruled by something other than the rules of business.

"The job he has picked out, by inheritance, by training, by parental example, by precedent; is banking primarily, financing secondarily, and manufacturing thirdly. His criterion of the way he is doing his stuff is the profit he makes. He did not select this measure of performance. By inheritance it was selected for him. By example it is glorified. HOLLYWOOD, Cal., April 17.—Preparing classics of literature for the motion picture screen brings the dramatist face to face with conflicting problems.

Of Concessions. Guening plays his golf, but as a consistent 110 golfer I am aware that in a match with Gene Sarazen I would be entitled to a handicap of about 50 per cent of his score. There is no handicap system in baseball, but in pugilism very often the good fighter is compelled to starve or boil himself down to weight with consequent loss of strength in order that conditions may be made more nearly even for the less efficient gladiator. In footracing, too, the scratch man makes a concession to opponents who cannot pick them up and put them down with the same randity.

In the cases of the Andrew Mellons and other scratch men of business, however, the handicaps are arranged in favor of the champions. Certainly no duffer with an income tax of $50 can avail himself of the legal devices by which the multi-millionaire is permitted to escape payment and remain with the rules. If the sporting analogy is good, moreover, then the mighty champions ought now and again to show a little chivalry to their pathetically weak, inferior and groggy opponents. This is often done in opponents. This is often done in sport. In sport, the loser does not become the economic slave of the winner; his children the slaves of the Raiding Squad Make March Banner Month for Alcohol Arrests.

Alcohol tax unit investigators used 30,131 gallons of corn liquor in gia up to April 15 during 1935, was announced yesterday by W. K. ohnston, investigator in charge of he Georgia unit.

Raiding squads arrested 757 men on sarges of violating the alcohol tax w during the same period, destroyed 0 stills, dumped 619,060 gallons of ash and confiscated 110 automobiles

March was the banner month, with seizures of corn liquor totalling 10,-025 gallons. There were 231 arrests made during that month, 240,066 gallons of mash dumped and 142 stills lons of mash dumped and 142 stills seized.

The first half of April likewise was profitable from the standpoint of tax unit investigators. During that period 65 stills were raided, 149 men arrested 2,762 gallons of liquor confiscated. $2.554 gallons of mash destroyed and 22 automobiles seized.

A raiding squad descended upon a 200-gallon still two miles southeast of Indian Springs early yesterday morning and arrested six men, four white and two neigro. No liquor was found, a shipment apparently having just been made. The white men arrested were James Brown, Frank Main, Haywood Howard and Charles Patten. The negroes are Peter Whitfield and Emmett McMullen. The six were arraigned yesterday before United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith, here, and ordered held to the federal grand jury.

Showers and Warmer Forecast for Today

Showers are on Atlanta's weather menu for today, but higher temperatures will prevail, and on the whole it will probably be preferable to the low readings of last week, according to George W. Mindling, meteorologist here. Showers, scheduled to commence early this morning, will be experi-enced during the day. The mercury will climb to 70 degrees during the afternoon, the highest in more than a week.

The temperature dropped to 41 in Atlanta early Wednesday morning, while 39 degrees was registered at Candler field. High for the day was 69. There was no frost in this section, although Gainesville, Ga., experienced a light frost, Mr. Mindling said:

Radio canaries, something new in entertainment of the air, will be introduced to Atlanta during the next two weeks. Ed Stalker will introduce his famous singing canaries during a two weeks engagement at the W. T. Grant store.

These birds, which have been heard over WBBM, in Chicago, and are now on a radio tour of the south, have each a special accomplishment. Bozo, for example, sings to the motion of her master's finger; Duke sings when placed before a microphone and Pop-Eye will defend his master if necessary. Goldie. White Cinnamon and others do equally interesting stunts.

In his demonstrations at the Grant store Mr. Stalker will include instruction on the care of canaries.

sizeable and prosperous squirearchy among the islands and on the fringe of mainland along the south Atlantic, the sea island fiber was dealt virtually a death blow 15 years ago by the boll weevil, arriving as the pest did, when the high price of short-staple cotton already had made it increasingly difficult to obtain a premium for the fiber fiber. the finer fiber. Valuable Staple.

When grown from pure selected seed under favorable conditions, sea island is the most valuable of the lightness with maximum strength and durability, such as airplane wings, bailoon and parachute cloth, and gas cells for dirigibles, the department considers sea island "as literally in a class by itself among the world's cotton fibers."

Notwithstanding, H. W. Barre, chief of the division of cotton in the bureau of plant industry, warns of the hazards to be met in any effort to produce this cotton on a commercial basis.

Weevil Is Pest.

Weevil Is Pest. Weevil Is Pest.

The boll weevil is the chief obstacle. Then sea island must be grown in isolation from upland cottons, to prevent cross-pollenization. Further, for a constructive and satisfactory and satisfactory to establish the constructive and satisfactory.

for a constructive and satisfactory market, it will be necessary to establish and maintain a regular production of the superior, uniform fiber. Proximity of upland cotton not only precludes the use of the sea island seed for next year's planting, due to the interbreeding, but spells virtually an absolute doom, Barre pointed out, for the growing long staple, in that the weevils, having attained great numbers and full growth by feeding on the uplands, ravage the late-maturing, soft boll, fine cotton.

To grow the sea island successfully, it has been suggested, legislation by states may be required to prevent planting of other cottons in the areas assigned for the finer grade.

The department of agriculture has on record only 15 bales of sea island cotton produced in the United States last year, this being the scant yield of 200 acres planted in Florida. It was pointed out the price obtained—25 cents a pound—did not justify the effort and investment.

Active Demand Seen.

Cotton Director Barre sees an active demand for the long and fine staple, pointing out 100,000 bales of the best grade Egyptian lint were imported last year. Under present hazardous conditions, however, he does not recommend large plantings of the cotton. Considerably long-staple pima cotton now is grown in Arizona.

Senator Russell, of Georgia, chairman of the senate appropriations subcommittee on agriculture, inserted a clause in the agriculture general appropriations bill requiring the department to use $20,000 of its general funds in an effort to remove the hazards which strangled the once-prosperous industry and for near two decades has kept it dormant.

NEW ENGLANDERS HAIL IMPORTATION INQUIRY
BOSTON. April 17.—(P)—Spokesmen of northern textile manufacturers tonight hailed President Roosevelt's ordered investigation of cotton cloth importations as "a step in the right direction." The investigation is to be made by the tariff commission.
At Manchester, N. H., Frederic C.
Dumaine, treasurer of the big Amoskeag mills, listed over-production as the chief cause of the industry's ills.
Dumaine, reporting to the annual stockholders' meeting of the plant, one of the largest in the world, placed the north-south wage differential in second place and the much-controverted foreign importation issue in third place.

oriegn importation issue in third place.

Other manufacturers have asserted that the 4,500 workers thrown out of employment in New England in recent weeks could ascribe their plight largely to the processing tax and the erils of Japanese importation.

Dumaine added, however, that ruthless importations from low cost countries must be prohibited and local taxes slashed to a minimum if the industry were to survive.

The company reported a net loss of $1,008,458,20 for last year against $31,443,96 net profit in 1933.

Dumaine warned that "only prompt and radical treatment will allay this epidemic, and even so, aid may arrive too late.

Some of the questions already decided upon were:

The name, age, color, sex and marital status of the unemployed: where they are located; what persons are employable; what they are qualified to do; what has been their principal job in the past; why they left that job; what they have been doing since that time.

Officials emphasized the count must be made quickly so that the information gathered may be used in round-

The plan contemplated a house-tohouse canvass so that not only those who are receiving relief, but those who are jobless but have not gone on relief might be counted. It would cover both city and country.

After the enumeration has been made, it will require 4,000 persons in Washington to tabulate the returns.

Experts said that unless the count was made before June 1 it would have to wait until next fall 'ecause yacations start in June and many persons would not be found during the aummer in the places where they live.

NATIONAL GROUP TO MEET

TO MAP FINANCIAL DRIVE
NEW YORK, April 17.—(P)—Officers of the republican national committee will meet here tomorrow with Henry P. Fletcher, national chairman, to map plans for what was indicated as the opening of a nationwide drive to raise funds for the 1936 presidential elections. The meeting will outline a plan to raise money in Manhattan.

Indications were that if the drive is successful it will be extended throughout New York state and ultimately the nation. Fletcher said tonight that the conference would decide whether a state-wide appeal for funds will be undertaken.

He said that George M. Getz, committee treasurer, was on his way from Chicago to participate in the conference and that George De B. Keim, of New Jersey, secretary, would be present.

President Tiller said officers of the federation were "forced by the action federation were "forced by the action of the governor to strenuously oppose his re-election" because he told a committee from the federation "in controversy over starvation wages being paid on our roads that he was opposed to the principles of the NRA; that he believed that low wages and longer hours was the solution of our economic problems." Tiller also assailed "indiscriminate use of troops under the alleged martial law" by Talmadge in the textile strike. He said Governor Talmadge's action in the strike, in arresting men

14 PRISONERS INJURED SHOOTS BLIND DOG, WIDOW'S FRIEND As dogs go, Bobby never took any prizes. Old age has robbed him of his eyesight, but not of the boundless canine devotion to his elderly mistress, Mrs. Ada L. Barker, of 676 Peachtree street. He has been a member of her household for more than 10 years. A very close member, too, particularly since the death of Mr. Barker. Bobby, blind and old, was stretched at the feet of his mistress yesterday afternoon in the back yard of the home. They, inseparable companions, were enjoying the sunshine. All was peaceful until a shot rang out and the dog lay writhing in agony. A veterinarian removed some of the shot, but others had penetrated the dog's body. 10 months. Ten missing defendants were sentenced in absentia to five years each, totaling 50 years. Fines amounting to 52,300 francs (about $3,500) were assessed against 17. Four were acquitted.

Among those sentenced in absentia was Mrs. Pauline Levine, an American, who has never been apprehended. After sentences were pronounced the defendants were taken from the courtroom, the Switzes, heavily guarded against possible reprisals, being driven in separate taxis to their respective jails where they were set free tonight after the necessary formalities of "signing out."

After their release, the American couple went into hiding, refusing to discuss their future plans. Switz was smuggled out of Sante prison and disappeared at once, while Mrs. Switz, accompanied by a white-haired man believed to be a relative, went to her lawyer's home, declaring she had nothing to say. Her husband joined her there, both leaving later for an undisclosed destination.

Benjamin Bercowitz, naturalized Canadian, was first to hear his fate. He was given five years and fined 3,000 francs. Subdued whispers of astonishment rustled through the room at its heaviness, though Bercowitz himself was stolidly calm.

Next was Octave Dumoulin, French army colonel, whose wife has constantly attended the trial. He was sentenced to five years and fined 3,000 francs.

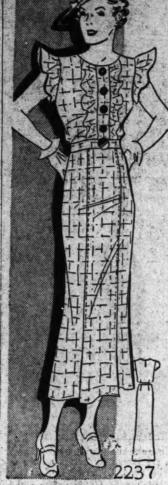

Mme, Lydia Stahl, "mystery woman" of the trial, an asserted ringleader and the gayest figure during the long month of court hearings, broke down and wept bitterly when she was sentenced to five years.

She, together with Bercowitz, Dumoulin, Maurice Milice, Ferisel Strom, Octave Aubry, Mme, Marcelle Aubry and Chana Salman, all asserted leaders in the plot, were warned that they must not appear in Paris or any part of France near Paris for five years after serving their sentences.

The Play.

West opened the king of hearts which held the trick. West could not regard East's six spot as encouraging when declarer played the five. Besides, West could not figrue South for four hearts on a pre-emptive bid of four spades. So he switched the suit, leading the ten of diamonds. South won with the ace of diamonds, drew trumps and laid down the queen of hearts from the closed hand. West permitted this to hold the trick. The pansy—that lovely flower of spring that blooms late into summer—makes this lovely qilt that is so easy to applique. You can make the flower in a different color in each block—use up scraps that way—or have the same material throughout. The flower is just one patch, the petals being indicated by outline stitch. It's an easy patch to handle as are the leaves. You can apply the design to pillow, scarfs and other bedroomaccessories, too, and so have them all harmonize.

Pink Candles and Cherokee Roses Avondale Garden Denote Mrs. Meeks' 80th Birthday

By Sally Forth.

THE surprise birthday party given Mrs. M. H. Meeks on Wednesday evening marked her 80th birthday. The hostess was her daughter, Mrs. Robert L. Cooney, who planned the artistic features denoting the number of years her mother has trod life's pathway. The party was given at Mrs. Cooney's home on Ponce de Leon avenue in Druid Hills. Mrs. Meeks was surrounded by her children, Mrs. Cooney, Mrs. Inman Gray and M. H. Meeks. The happy group was augmented by her grand-daughters, Mrs. Robert Sala and Eleanor Gray, and Robert L. Cooney and Inman Gray, her sons-in-law.

Eighty pale pink candles surmounted the exquisitely embossed birthday cake. The 80 Cherokee roses flaunting their fragrance from the golden bowl gracing the center of the lace-covered table was another rosy evidence of the observation of Mrs. Meeks' natal day.

Mrs. Meeks is the former Annie Baldwin Nunnelly, who was born in Nunnelly, Tenn., on April 17, 1855. Sie graduated from St. Cecilia Academy near Nashville, and when she attended the 50th anniversary four members, Rachel Burton, of her class, Mrs. Meeks was the Flowers, greeting cards and telegrams felicitated the honor guest, who was gowned in black satin and wore gardenias on her shoulder. Mrs. Cooney wore black chiffon flowered in field daisies, and Mrs. Gray was gowned in turquoise blue crepe.

Dame The annual flower show of the Avondale Garden Club will be held on Wednesday, May 1, at the Avondale Community Club. The public is invited to visit the show between the hours of 2 and 8:30 o'clock.

It is important for each member to keep the following rules, as they will be of great help in selecting and arranging material for exhibits: Any member may exhibit in this show, but must have grown plants and flowers exhibited. The hours for entering exhibits will be from 9 to 12 o'clock only. Only one entry in each division of a class will be received from an exhibitor. Any entry not qualifying will be placed on the unclassified table subject to sweepstakes prize only. Sweepstakes prize will be awarded for the most outstanding exhibit in the entire show. Exhibits may be removed at 8:30 p. m., none before that time. No flowers, pot plants or other exhibits may be sold at this show. Containers optional except where noted. Vegetables and fruit must have been grown by exhibitor.

Rumor says their wedding date

Club Announces

Rumor says their wedding date is set for September.

FIRST-HAND news informs I Sally that a round of good times is being had by Maro Middleton Gilbert and Martha Maddox Garlington during their visit to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rahr in Scarsdale, N. Y. A gay Easter week-end has been planned by the hosts for their Atlanta visitors. The schedule calls for a motor trip through the beautiful hills and valleys abounding in Westchester county, where Scarsdale is located. Luncheon at the Westchester Biltmore Club will be followed by a game of golf over the links surrounding this renowned and picturesque club-

With Mr. and Mrs. Rahr the young Atlanta matrons will drive to Pelham late Sunday afternoon for an aperitif party to be given by friends of the Rahrs. Inci-dentally, Mrs. Rahr will be remembered here as the former Julia Bradshaw, of Athens. Since her marriage to Freddie Rahr she has resided in the east and is quite a social favorite with the colony maintaining homes in the fashionable Westchester section of New York. Next week Maro and Martha plan daily trips into the metropolis, where they will attend the theaters, shop and enjoy lunch-eons, teas and dinners with friends at the clubs and hotels.

meetings since the organization of this society in May, 1934.

This meeting, attended by 75 members, the society president, B. E. Phillips, presiding, was the third meeting of this year and was featured by a series of interesting discussions on the various phases of dahlia culture.

W. F. Jones, second vice president, selected as his subject the most approved method in treatment of green plants; covering this subject in detail from the time green plants are received from the grower, to maturity. Fertilization in dahlia culture was discussed by W. D. Ricks, society member and a dahlia grower of wide experience. C. E. Faust, society member and well known as a grower of exhibition dahlias covered the subject of general dahlia culture, including the cutting and preparation of blooms for show. David D. Long, past president, who is an expert on fertilizers, presented interesting facts dealing with the chemical composition of various fertilizers and their reaction on cell formation in plant life. with the preparation of soils, planting, cultivation, insect and fungus disease control, pruning, disbudding, etc.

These features were sponsored by the program committee, Roland Lyon, chairman. The committee on trial ground judging and scoring made a report on progress in connection with the trial ground to be opened at the Georgia Experiment Station, Griffin, under the sponsorship of the Dahlia Society of Georgia.

Nelson Crist, chairman of committee on varieties, with approximate grouped catalog prices and urged members to give serious thought to planning their dahlia gardens this season; to plant for scenic beauty in plantings, color harmony and variety, as well as for exhibition blooms, and to purchase only first-quality stock from reliable growers. Members are urged to plant not too early, especially for show blooms. Planting season is from June 10 to June 20, for October show.

To keep a marriage happy a couple has to form the habit of confiding one in the other. The minute husband or wife begins to be secretive about any matter that concerns their common life that minute the crack is formed through which love and loyalty may leak out.

Friendly Counsel By CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Problems of general interest submit-ted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence, Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

Two young brides, friends and apartment neighbors, ask for some pointers as to how to make their marriages happy and permanent. Here is the biggest job two human beings can handle. Handled well, it pays the biggest dividends any job

First, the young couple shouldn't expect too much of love. Love has to be bolstered with common sense, hard work and sacrifice, if marriage is to be happy and last till death do them part. Love alone won't make a man and woman see cye to eye on every subject. It won't keep wills from clashing nor tempers from getting out of control. It won't make the selfish unselfish nor the stingy generous. It won't work radical changes in traits of character, though it may soften hardness and strengthen weakness. However, love plus common sense, hard work and self-discipline will enable a man and woman to adjust themselves to each other and stick by their marriage bargain until they have at least a sense of satisfaction in having done the job well.

The hard work begins for the husband and wife as soon as they come back from their honeymoon and settle down to the business of making a living and spending it. There are more possibilities for misunderstandings in dollars and doughnuts than there are in things much bigger and more important much bigger and more important.
"Great trees from little acorns grow" and a little disagreement over a dollar or a doughnut sometimes constitutes the wedge that separate a pair who were joined for life.

know how much money he earns or what he does with it arouses her suspicion that won't be allayed with' love talk. The wife who deceives her husband about what she spends or how she spends it, where she has been or what she went for, is laying up trouble for herself. She is inviting de-ceits from him and she will get them. We instinctively trust those who con-fide in was and faith is the most es-A clear understanding between a young husband and wife about money will obviate many a difficulty. A budget, openly arrived at and strictly budget, openly arrived at and strictly adhered to, smooths the path of married life. Everything they have, everything they do, everywhere they go is, in the last analysis, governed by their purse. Living beyond the income will poison the peace of mind and make a person irritable and irascible. Getting head over heels in debt will door any covalle to disaster. fide in us and faith is the most es-sential element affection. doom any couple to disaster.

Next comes a willingness on the part of each to take into account the other's prides and prejudices and make concessions accordingly. This requires careful study, too, for they don't reveal themselves to each other all of a sudden. Sometimes a man who has been altogether friendly with his fiancee's family develops a violent jealousy of their hold on his wife's affection. The sight of the in-laws in his home arouses him to the extent that he can't be politic and the row is on when this happens. Sometimes a wife who has before marriage accepted her husband's friends in the best spirit becomes antagonistic to them afterward, on the ground that they are bad influence on him, or on the ground that they take him away from her when she wants to be with him. Instead of being conciliatory about the grievance she forces the issue and makes him choose between them and her. Deep trouble is then brewing.

To make their marriage happy a young couple has to learn not to make mountains out of mole hills, to laugh off little annoyances, to forgive petty offenses, to heal little breaches quickly before they become too wide to heal. Not long ago a young couple got a divorce because they had a quarrel over an incident that amounted to nothing in itself. But the wife got so angry over what she thought was an outrage against her that she went home to her parents and stayed long enough for her husband to get desperately lonely and look for solace in companionship with a neighbor. When she forgave the first offense and offered to go back to him he had decided he didn't want her and he gave her to understand that his second offense was a real one.

To keep a marriage happy a couple has to cultivate common interests and common friends. The more things and people they enjoy together, the closer and warmer their companionship. Any hobby that they cultivate is a bond, be it cards, golf, gardening, collecting, reading or writing. And best of all, children they bring into the world are the great bond of interest and affection.

The baby son of a clergyman frequently mounts his improvised pulpit and preaches an eloquent sermon. It has little variation from day to day because his ideas are few and far between and his vocabulary is limited. His topic is heaven, and this is his closing sentence: "If you want to go to that warm and snuggy place and stay there you have to be good." The happy marriage is the heaven of this earth, warm and snuggy and to stay there one has to be good.

Nancy suggests the use of the fluted paper cups. These take the form of hats, bonnets, collars as well as acting as firm bases.

Every egg is fitted into one of the cups for a base. In the case of one—a man who wears a mustache of the gay nineties, and a Tyrolean hat —the base is flattened to make a fluted collar which is more like a ruff. The man has to have something to offset his oversize ears.

Noses are made by cutting firm paper, folding it to shape and pasting or glueing it onto the egg.

Where Can the Working Man Borrow?

With every Small Loan Company in the state withdrawing from business, turning in their licenses, where can the Workingman borrow? There are two sources open to him: (1) Banks or similar financial institutions which lend on extra good endorsements, which the average Small Loan Customer cannot furnish; (2) Unscrupulous Salary Buyers (240% Loan Sharks), who operate outside the law—UNCONTROLLED as to how much they can charge the Necessitous Borrower.

How Much Does a 31% Loan Cost You?

There has been much discussion of what the 3½ per cent rate of interest actually costs the Borrowers, and much misleading information has been circulated. The actual cost per $100.00 repaid in ten monthly installments is $19.25 for the entire period, and this interest is never charged on anything but the unpaid balance. The actual operation of a ten-month loan is shown below:

What Profit Is There in 31% Loans?

There has been much misinformation spread as to the enormous amount of profit made by Small Loan Companies operating at 3½ per cent a month. The actual average net profit made by Small Loan Companies operating in the State of Georgia for the year 1933 was only 5.7 per cent (records for 1934 have not yet been completely compiled). This figure is taken from the records of the State Banking Department.

Why Was 31% Law Established?

To protect the Small Borrower, the Russell Sage Foundation, a disinterested Philanthropic Organization, made a thorough research over the entire nation and found the 3½ per cent rate sound and fair to both borrower and lender. This research was taken as the foundation for the Uniform 3½ per cent Small Loan Law, made to protect the Small Borrower from the illegal and exorbitant rates charged by the Salary Buying Loan Sharks. In three other states the 3½ per cent rate has been reduced and then two years later restored as a necessary protection for the Working Man. In Michigan the 3½ per cent rate was recently reduced by the Legislature, but the measure was vetoed by Governor Comstock upon investigation of the affiliction it would have brought upon the Working People of the state.

Who Benefits by Reducing the 31% Rate?

Who stood to benefit by the reduction of the 3½ per cent rate to ½ per cent? Not the Legizlature... they are not interested in going into the money lending business... not the banks... they do not handle the 3½ per cent type of customer. BUT the Salary Buyers knew what had happened in other states when the 3½ per cent rate was reduced. They knew that the Small Loan Companies could not operate at a lower rate. They knew that the Small Loan Companies would be forced out of business and that they would have the state left to themselves. You have heard of "Loan Lobbying" in the General Assembly ... who do YOU think was lobbying? Who do YOU think wanted the 3½ per cent Small Loan Companies forced to withdraw from Georgia? If you have any doubts, turn to the Classified Section of your newspaper and see how many Salary Buyers ... who never advertised before ... are now bidding for the Working Man's Loan Necessities. The Salary Buyers stand to reap Milliens of dollars in Ill-gotten profits from the people who will be forced to borrow from them because there is no other place for them to turn.

Why Are Small Loan Companies Ceasing to Make Loans?

The Personal Finance Companies (Small Loan Companies who formerly operated under the  $3\frac{1}{2}$ % rate) are withdrawing from operation in the State of Georgia. NOT as a protest against the reduction of the rate, but because they cannot EXIST on the rate of  $1\frac{1}{2}$ %. Since the figures supplied by the State Banking Department show that when allowed  $3\frac{1}{2}$ % a month these businesses actually net only  $\frac{1}{2}$  of  $1\frac{1}{2}$ % a month, due to expense of operation and losses, then it is easy to see why a reduction of  $2\frac{1}{2}$ % in their rates would cause them to operate at a net LOSS of  $1\frac{1}{2}$ % a month.

No business can operate under such conditions; consequently the Association of Personal Finance Companies of Georgia advises that its members, comprising every Small Loan Company in the state, are withdrawing from further lending operation in the State of Georgia, under the Uniform Small Loan Law, FORCED out to make Georgia a happy hunting ground for the Salary Buyers.

If you, as a citizen with the welfare of your fellow man at heart, or as an individual who may some day need a place to borrow money, want to see their present deplorable situation remedied, ask your Representative or Sanator to do something to save the Working People of Georgia from the Loan Sharks.

Moon Checks Crackers as Knoxville Takes Second Game, 9-3

"The Ruth Is Mighty and Will Prevail."

Heywood Broun wrote that line some years ago, paraphras ing a line about Truth. A young fellow named Babe Ruth had just broken up a ball game.

And it was this same Ruth who Tuesday, after 20 years of pounding about in the baseball lots of the American league, prevailed again in his first game in the National league, wearing a Boston Brave uniform and facing Carl Hubbell and his famous

I suspect that Ruth came very nearly being the story in our town, which is some miles away from Boston and the evanescent snow which fell there. Certainly it was Ruth they were talking about yesterday in our town. Ruth and then the amazing crowd of 18,671 fans who paid their money to see the Crackers open with a victory. "The Ruth Is Mighty and Will Prevail."

But the story is this: The Yankees, without Ruth, were supposed to be bigger and better than ever. Yet Boston, with snow flurries in the air, drew as many as New York where it was merely cold.

And Lou Gehrig, minus the overshadowing Ruth, of 9 to 3.

Thus ended the dream of those six straight and exploded for the time being, anyway, the Cracker power over left-handed pitching. For Eddie Moore's mighty conquerors of Tuesday ran into an old jinx in the person of Leo (Lefty) Moon, who let them have just six hits while the Smokies played dashing baseball behind him before a crowd that was quite a contrast to the Atlanta crowd, being one of only 3,761 paid admissions on a murky day.

They were a different looking out-In our town, which is some miles away from Boston and for drama and to emerge triumphant.

Hubbell had fanned him in the all-star game. But that was no drama. The signing of Ruth by Boston had assured two major dramas—Ruth up at bat with Carl Hubbell out there on the mound; and Ruth at bat with

"Ole Diz" Dean out there winding up.
The first one was Tuesday. It was bitter cold. And a dark, blustery day. Just the day for Carl Hubbell and his fast one. The Babe, and the story is old by now, belted a home run and a single to drive in two runs and scored twice himself. The Braves made but four runs as they beat the Giants, 4 to 2. Where the spotlight beams the fiercest there you will find the Babe at the peak.

There were hundreds of baseball heroes ready for the leading role on Tuesday. But when day was done it was the familiarly famous figure of George Herman Ruth, all washed up, who went to the star's dressing room.

I don't know what he will do again. That is, until they give him another spotlight. But meanwhile there is no doubt

THE MOON COMES OVER THE MOUNTAIN.

Leo Moon stopped our noble lads in Knoxville yesterday and, while this is painful, it is not serious. Leo Moon is likely to stop the noble lads from any town. He is that sort of a pitcher. A harvest Moon when it comes to victories.

Leo Moon came into this league near a decade ago, reporting to Nashville. He is very left-handed, and had he chosen to pay strict attention to his chores and not go about seeking a gay and gaudy time, he would have gone up to the majors and stayed there.

But he has had his fun and maybe it evens up the chips In his own idea of things. I am not pointing at Leo Moon.

The big left-hander has suffered a broken arm and bruised skulls in brawls during the past two seasons but he bobs up each year with a brand of pitching which is extremely poison and uncomfortable to those on the

Once back here in the rugged fastnesses of the Great Smoky mountains, the Smokies seemed to take a new lease on life. They pounded Berkeley Bill Schmidt, the rookie pride of the Atlanta staff, from the box with three runs in the fourth and then they continued to pound Bobby Durham and Al Williams, whom Eddie Moore rushed to the rescue.

SCHMIDT NOT SELF.

Schmidt, who won 17 games for the club last year, was very obviously not himself today. He was reached for a home run in the first inning by Eddie Kunz, the youngster who has replaced Wally French in the Smokie outfield, and he was rapped hard in the fourth when four straight hits drove him out of there.

Durham, the stocky gent who relieved Schmidt, pitched very creditable ball for two and two-thirds innings, allowing no hits or runs, but the aroused Smokies lit into him in the seventh and bombarded him to cover after he grew wild, walked a couple and allowed three straight singles by Kunz, Stebbins and Rosenfeld for as many runs.

It probably isn't true at all that the New Orleans Kop the Kup Kampaign Kommitteemen shot themselves upon hearing the report of the record crowd which packed the Cracker park here Tuesday.

Although, at that, there are those who think a little shooting might be in order for anyone who would name a campaign by any such name as Kop the Kup.

The Atlanta crowd was supplemented by delegations from surrounding cities and they, too, must come in for the salute to the most magnificent fans in base-ball.

It is significant that the record of this year topped those stabilished in the days when money grew on trees; the good,

Cronin Peers Into Future And Dopes Out the Race

By Edward J. Neil.

NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP)—Joe Cronin, costly young pilot of the Boston Red Sox, peered into baseball's crystal ball today and saw many things off in the summer's distance.

He saw every club in the American league with a chance to win the pennant, with the issue resting finally on the breaks, and freedom from

He saw the contenders in August knocking each other over, leaving the field clear for any club that can stay within striking distance into

That's where the haze thickened.
"The strangest thing about this entire league right now," Joe explained, "is the lack of infield reserve strength on every club. There isn't one team in the league that can throw in a really strong replacement if injuries hit them. It looks to me as though some of the steady veterans back in the minor leagues can get ready to return invited to be present. about August.

HAPPY FOR BABE.

"It's going to be the year for fellows to come back and pull teams through like Stuffy McInnis did for the Pi-rates years ago, and Mark Koenig for the Cubs."

Joe was unusually happy today over two things in particular—Babe Ruth's great start in his National league ca-reer in Boston, and Ferrell's brilliance yesterday.

HYDER'S SINGLE SCORES GROSSI IN GREAT GAME

Louis Carpenter Has Edge in Brilliant Battle of Pitchers.

By Jack Troy.

Bobby Dodd's Georgia Tech baseball team finally created into the win col-tumn yesterday, scoring a brilliant 1-to-0 intersectional victory over the Cin-cinnati University nine at the Rose

There wasn't an extra base hit. The three errors, one by the Cincinnati team and two by Tech, didn't have any bearing on the result.

John (Whack) Hyder, Tech's sophomore left fielder, took center position in the limelight in the fifth when he wheeled a sizelate to give the continuous and there are no waste more later to waste more later to waste more later to waste more later are no waste more later to waste more later to Grossi, who had previously singled, with the winning run.

Tech scored its run acording to Hoyle. What Grossi did was to beat out an infield hit. Carpenter came up and sacrificed him to second. Shorty Roberts skied to right, making two men away, and then Hyder was put in a spot to produce or leave Grossi in a state of expiration at second. Well, the sophomore produced. He slapped a single out near the right field line that really broke up an excellent game.

the range and fanned Hanson, left fielder, and Schaffer, third baseman, Ashe, Cincinnati first baseman, a all for getting Carpenter in another hole in the second. He led off with a single. But this time the Jacket infield came to the rescue. Emerick, right fielder, slapped a grounder to Grossi, who came up with the ball, tossed it to McNenney, forcing Ashe, and McNenney rifled it to Gibson at first for the game's only double play. AND THE SECOND.

Carpenter was in his second really bad spot of the game in the third. And again it was the top end of the Cincinnati batting order that caused Baetz led off with a walk and Schwarberg singled, Baetz holding up at second. Davis, catcher, moved both at second. Davis, catcher, moved both runners up with a nifty sacrifice. So, with one down again, runners resting on second and third, Carpen-ter bore down. Rogge, center field-er, hit a weak roller just in front of the plate and Harry Appleby retired him at first

The next batter, Hanson, left fielder, took the customary three cuts and Carpenter was well on the way to winning his game.

GROSSI OKAY.

GROSSI OKAY.

Grossi, who had been reported on the ailing list, led the Jackets with two hits and played a nice game afield. He let one get by him, but that seemed due to his recent operation. He simply couldn't bend over far enough to accept the chance.

Ashe wielded the willow or the ash more proficiently than any of his teammates. getting two hits. teammates, getting two hits.

Coach King, of Cincinnati, had high praise for the defensive strength of the Jackets and predicted that their hitting power would develop on the slightes: provocation.

O intersectional victory over the Cincinnati University nine at the Rose Bowl.

The game will stand as one of the finest exhibitions of college baseball played in Atlanta in recent years. There were some 400 fans there to see it. Tech students and coaches were in the majority.

It just goes to show what opportunities inveterate Atlanta fans sometimes let slip past. As far as admission was concerned, the game was as free as the birds and the bees.

Louis Carpenter, bespectacled Jacket right-hander, and Jake Klavner, portly Cincinnati Universoity southpaw, engaged in one of those rare pitchers' battles in which each side was able to get but four hits.

Carpenter showed an inclination to wildness in the first inning, walking two and dropping a ball at third in an effort to catch Baetz, Cincinnati second baseman, in the chase. Here was the first spot.

Dickie Butler, Boys' High backfield coach and former coach of all athletics at Decatur High school, has been offered the coach's position at Gordon Institute, Barnesville, Ga., it was learned, Wednesday.

Butler was one of the three men considered for the Male High position at Louisville. Ky., which was filled by Wallace Butts, from G. M. C., at Milledgeville, Ga.

Several other offers have been tendered Butler since he led Decatur to three successive football championships and gave Boys' High its best backfield in recent years when the Purples won both the city and state championships last fall.

The Gordon post is considered one Carolina netter, 6-3. 6-2, while Hal Surface, of Kansas City, defeated Laird Watt, of Montreal, 7-5, 7-5. Allison and Surface will meet tomorrow. In the women's singles, Florence Leboutiliter, of Westbury, Long Island, advanced to the semi-finals by the default of Mrs. Natalie Jordan, of Chapel Hill, N. C. She will meet Jane Sharpe, of Pasadena, Cal., who conquered Margaret Anderson, of Richmond, 6-3, 5-7, 6-2.

Other results:

Women's doubles (quarter finals): Mrs. Fenelope Anderson McBride, of Short Hills, N. J., and Florence Leboutillier, of Westbury, Long Island, defeated Mrs. S. B.

carrier situation which has set off salling several times in recent weeks came to the fore again as the Chicago & Northwestern announced its intention of postponing payment of the interest due May 1 on its 4 3-4 per cent convertible bonds.

The road's president announced that advantage was being taken of the 60-day grace period allowed under the nd indenture, and that it was his paid within the allotted time.

By focusing attention on a known weak spot in the financial picture, the announcement was sufficient to reverse the moderate showing of the attength which had appeared in some other sections of the stock market in early dealings, and fractional losses were the rule among leading equities

The grain markets were likewise an The grain markets were likewise an unsettling factor. Wheat was weak at declines of 1 7-8 to 2 3-8 cents a bushel and cotton lost 70 to 90 cents a bale. Corn, which had been able to rally early in the trading session, finally yielded its gains and ended 1-8 to 3-4 of a cent a bushel down. Bonds Depressed.

Rail trouble afflicted the bond market, as it did the stock list. The Chicago & Northwestern 4 3-4s broke 3 1-2 points to 9 7-8, and numerous secondary rail issues lost 1 to 2 points or so. Other portions of the list, however, held fairly well and United States government obligations were firm.

At no time during the session could liquidation of stocks have been termed urgent. The turnover on the stock exchange although a little higher than on Tuesday, aggregated only 855,540 shares. The Associated Press average for 60 stocks declined 6 of a point at 38.1. Industrials and rails gave more ground than utilities, but even the latter were soft for the most part.

The day's news, however, was not The day's news, however, was not without its bright spots. Early estimates of the latest week's freight loadings set the figure a shade better than a year ago. Walter Gifford, president of American Telephone, told stockholders at the company's annual meeting that the number of phones in service was gradually increasing and that the outlook was encouraging. A compilaoutlook was encouraging. A compila-tion of the first quarter profit of 30 important industrial companies showed net of $15,877,962 compared with $11,-582,615 in the initial period of 1934.

Silver Reduced.

Silver stocks received a setback when the price of the bar metal was again reduced, this time by 1-4 of a cent to 67 cents an ounce. The price has now dropped 1 1-2 cents from its high of a few days ago at 68 1-2 cents. United States Smelting, a leader in the advance of silvers.

cents. United States Smelting, a leader in the advance of silver shares, declined 3 3-4 points to 106 3-4, while American Smelting and Cerro de Pasco lost about a point each.

Atlantic Refining held about steady at 24 1-2 following publication of its $129,000 loss in the first quarter, against a profit of $613,000 in the like period a year ago. Crucible Steel preferred picked up a point at 52 on the strength of the remarks of its president revealing that business was running substantially ahead of last year's figures.

ning substantially ahead of last year's figures.
Union Pacific was a weak spot among stock leaders with a decline of 3 1-2 points a' 86, while others off a point or so included American Telephone at 105 3-4, Allied Chemical at 139, Santa Fe at 38 1-2, Sears-Roebuck at 36 1-8, and Standard Oil of New Jersey at 40 5-8. Fractional losses appeared in United States Steel at 31 3-8, Consolidated Gas at 21 3-8, International Harvester at 37 5-8, Southern Pacific at 14, New York Central at 15 and a number of other trading favorites. trading favorites.

curb market was slightly upset today, but price changes were generally narrow and trading dwindled on the reaction, transfers approximating 188.000 shares compared with 169,000 Tuesday.

A few specialties displayed independent strength, among them were Fajardo Sugar, Pan-American Airways and Mead Johnson, advancing 1 to 2 points or so. Utilities held fairily even throughout the session. Alcohols were lower.

Hiram Walker, Distillers Corporation-Seagram, New Jersey Zinc, Gulf Oil, Swift International and International Petroleum receded fractions to about a point. Steadiness was maintained by Lake Shore, Electric Bond & Share, Wright Hargreaves and American Cyanamid "B."

NEW ORLEANS, April 17.—(P)—
Cotton lost ground today for the third successive session and futures closed from 16 to 18 points lower.

from 16 to 18 points lower.

While there was no concerted pressure exerted against the market light offerings during the day found few buyers and commitments were made on a point-to-point decline. Most of the business was liquidation of the May contract, and evening up of commitments for the coming holiday.

Business was restriced, as is customary in 'pre-holiday sessions, and routine orders were about all the market had to absorb.

At the opening active positions were practically unchanged from Tuesday's finals. But point by point the market began to ease and with buying interest almost totally lacking May ended at 11.36, October at 11.15, December at 11.22 and January at 11.25.

Depressing Influence.

Lower prices for stocks and grains also served as a depressing influence on cotton prices. Most of the new emanating from the trade was comparatively bullish. Print cloth salet continued to hold up well, according to advices from Wall Street, while crop reports stated that the dryness in the western part of Texas may menace the new crop.

The weekly weather report stated western part of Texas may menace the new crop.

The weekly weather report stated that slow progress has been made in planting in the north of the belt, due to the lower temperatures and the we soil. Louisiana and Mississippi re-ported unfavorable weather for plant ing, and little seeding has been done in the northeast section of the cottor states.

Another Protest.

Another organization went on recore as being opposed to the present government cotton program when the Atlan tic Cotton Association assembled a Charleston, S. C., vigorously score the processing tax and asked the government to discontinue "artificial fixed price loans."

The duliness of domestic exchange has affected Livernool, it was reported.

By G. A. PHILLIPS.

NEW YORK, April 17.—(P)—A fresh sinking spell in railroad issues gave the bond market another shock today just as it was adjusting its sails to a higher course.

Announcement that the Chicago & Northwestern railway would defer interest payments on its 4 3-4 per cent convertible bonds for 60 days in order to get a breathing spell was not altogether unexpected because this particular issue had long been under pressure, but the action itself was sufficient to bring in review the whole unpleasant railroad situation and bonds of other carriers were dragged down by the undertow.

Other divisions of the list displayed varied reactions. Industrials were inclined to cut loose and find their own way into higher territory, but utilities became frightened and stood still. High-grade bonds were sensitive to small offerings and tilted backward, while United States governments held fairly steady.

Six separate issues of Northwestern bonds were hammered down 2 to 3 1-2 points under heavy offerings. Other carrier issues dipping around a point or so included obligations of the Baltimore & Ohio. Great Northern, "Katy," Nickel Plate, New York, Ontario & Western, and Southern Railway. Southern Pacific refunding 4s were an exception and gained 3-4 of a point at 92 1-2.

Firmest spots in the industrial division were Remington Rand 5 1-2s at 103 3-4, Penn Dixie 6s at 83, and Container 6s at 102 3-4. Among utilities holding even or losing a small fraction were American Water Works 6s at 78, Laclede Gas 5 1-2s at 61 1-2 and Western Union 4 1-2s at 86 3-4.

"Blue Chip" issues losing ground included New England Telephone 5s, off 1-4 point to 121, and Liggett & Myers 5 1-2s lower at 121.

The government division commanded increased attention from traders, the turnover being $2,440,000 against $1,720,000 on Tuesday, but the net result indicated a bargaining spirit prevailed in most transactions. Liberties were unchanged to 2-32ds lower, short term treasurys gained as much as 6-32d's, while the long-term loans were a trif

6-32d's, while the long-term loans were a trifle soggy and indirect obligations were unchanged to 1-32d higher.

A further rise in obligations of the

A further rise in obligations of the Italian government and municipal bonds of that country featured the foreign department. German 5 1-2s dipped around a point on announcement that the money for interest on these bonds due on Aprill 15 had not been received by the Bank for International Settlements. Most of the South and Central American loans were a bit lower.

Transfers aggregated $11,254,000 par value, compared with $9,456,000 on Tuesday. The Associated Press averages were .4 of a point lower to .3 of a point higher.

Market Outlook

MAX BUCKINGHAM

The rise of corn was the result of focusing of trade attention on scanting as it and cold weather in the west have restricted Easter buying. However, retail shopping may show a son for May settlement of accounts. Cash interests as well as recent speculative sellers were credited with buying of May corn especially, but an abrupt reaction of the corn market as a whole took place at the last when transient rallies in wheat failed to be maintained.

An exhibition of comparative weakness in the Liverpool wheat market preceded the downward swings of Chicago wheat futures. In some quarters, camphrais was put on bearish reports that numerous Nebraska farmers were preparing to replant with spring wheat much winter crop acreage before May 1, if temperatures were not too warm.

STOCK OPINIONS.

DOBBS & CO.—If there is some further selling Thursday morning there might be some covering before the holiday on Friday.

COURTS & CO.—We feel that there is an increased interest in common stocks and that many of this group will sell much higher when the foreign and domestic political situation is cleared.

FENNER & BEANE—It appears advisable not to overestend trading positions until definite indications are forthcoming that the secondary uptrend has been compromised.

BEER & CO.—In the absence of any disturbing news, we do not look for the market to recede much before another attempt at higher prices is initiated.

COUTON OPINIONS.

COURTS & CO.—An easy tendency has developed due to the poorer cloth business and assier forsign prices despite the possibility of process taxes being repealed created unconstitution so that we believe an even position safest.

FENNER & BEANE—Sentiment appears to have turned reactionary.

BEER & CO.—The market has advanced charply recently and a realising movement has been expected, which will likely be completed Thursday.

RUBBARD BROTHERS & CO. TO DOEDS & CO.—We saw nothing in Wednesday's developments to cause any change of opinion as to the immediate market outlook, May Ulterpool due 6.30.

FENNER & BEANE—Unless rains are general and heavy we look for good buying on any further recessions in wheat.

DOEDS & CO.—It is our belief that wheat has reached a level where purchases are recommended that has reached a level where purchases are recommended.

"Now, Mr. Stone." said the coroner, urgently. "having heard the autopsy report, will you state your opinion as to the possibility of the case?"

report, will you state your opinion as to the possibility of the case?"

"In view of the report we have just heard there seems to be but a small range of possibilities. We must take the doctor's findings as truth, that leaves us with pretty fair proof that Mr. Wayne was murdered and that Mr. Van Zandt died what is called a natural death, that is, death from a recognized disease. Granting this, we are faced with the problem of who committed the murder. As I am employed on the case, I shall of course use all my energies to solve the problem, but at present I have no idea as to who the criminal is, nor can I have until I am more conversant with the evidence. Until then, I can give no opinion whatever."

Daniel Wayne was called, and though he preserved his poise, he looked badly shaken and talked with difficulty. He said nothing evidential, nor did his brother.

There were further witnesses from the steamer, the doctor's opinions agreeing entirely with those of Dr. Blaine.

Despairing of any further real information, the coroner gave the case.

Blaine.

Despairing of any further real information, the coroner gave the case over to the jury, who promptly returned the verdict that Barry Wayne was murdered by a person or persons unknown, and that Elkins Van Zandt died of a severe attack of stomach ulcorre. ulcers.

The coroner gathered up his papers and with a few conversational words of leave-taking, hurried away. "It is understood," Demarest said, "that this inquest was purely rou-tine, but it is useful as a record. And now shall we all go over to Nan-tucket? I don't want to be intrusive,

"Yes, I know. Oh, I am selfish. Your grief, of course, is as deep as mine. Forgive me, we will try to comfort one another."
She turned to her father, who drew her down beside him as he sat on a davenport.

But Pat Wayne was not to perform his errand so easily. He took the hand of Van Zandt's wife, and began to commiserate her on her grief.

"Don't talk like that!" she cried, stamping her feet on the rug. "Don't tell me you're sorry for me! What do I care whether you're sorry or not? Tell me of Elkins. Tell me how he died—who killed him? What with? Tell me everything! You know all about it, and I know nothing—nothing!" The last word died away in a long, low wail. She stalked across the floor and back, making despairing gestures with her hands, which would have seemed theatrical had they been less sincere. She shed no tears, but the tawny gleam in her amber eyes showed the intensity of her emotion. The strangers saw only a woman racked with grief, for which she strove to find a physical outlet.

FOUR-MINUTE KISS IS MUCH TOO LONG,

The question was not "If you can't kiss your own wife, whose wife can kiss," but centered more on the duration of a kiss of propriety.

Owen Bowling thinks a four-minute kiss and four or five hugs exceed the bounds of propriety, particularly when the expression of affection is openly performed in a public street, right in front of his house. He testified to that effect before Recorder A. W. Callaway yesterday aft-ployed in a Virginia avenue beauty shop and to whom he was bidding farewell in front of Bowling, did not farewell in front of Bowling, and not air his opinion of the proper length of time a "respectable" kiss could occupy, but he did testify that he didn't like Bowling's interference.

Bowling was arrested upon Sillay's

Bowling was arrested upon Sillay's complaint that he had said uncomplimentary things when Sillay bade his wife goodby near her place of employment. The charges against Bowling were disorderly conduct, but Recorder Callaway dismissed the charges, saying that Bowling was justified in objecting to witnessing a four-minute kiss.

Lifeshioned."

To continuance the weeks. He said that his itinerary was being mapped out and that he planned to start around May 1.

Ernest Neal, of Calhoun, poet laureate of Georgia, Wednesday night was a guest in the home of Major Duke C. Meredith, Atlanta attorney and noet, on University drive.

George Gray Case Is Ready for Jury

ase of George Gray, of New Orleans, on trial in DeKalb superior court on charges of possessing burglary tools, closed late last night and court was recessed until this morning when Judge James C. Davis will charge the jury. The defense closed without submitting rebuttal evidence or defense witnesses and without Gray tak-ing the stand in his own defense.

ing the stand in his own defense.

Gray was arrested with Frank Miller, of Dallas, Texas, following a break-neck chase by DeKalb police which followed a machine gun battle on Snapfinger creek in southwestern DeKalb county in which a cache of burglary tools was uncovered.

George Brunson, also captured by the police after the battle, recently was tried in DeKalb superior court on similar charges and was sentenced to five to ten years.
